Environmental incentives/Attachments

Environmental Ship Index

Vessels in the category “other vessels” that hold a valid ESI-score from the Environmental Ship Index (ESI) of the World Ports Climate Initiative can get a discount on the fairway due.

ESI-score between 30 and 50 = 20% discount

ESI-score more than 50 = 30% discount

Environmental Port Index

The Port of Trondheim uses the environmental index EPI (Environmental Port Index) for pricing of fairway due and quay due for cruise ships.

The cruise ship must have submitted its data within 72 hours after departing the port. Cruise ships that do not meet this requirement receive an EPI score equal to 0.

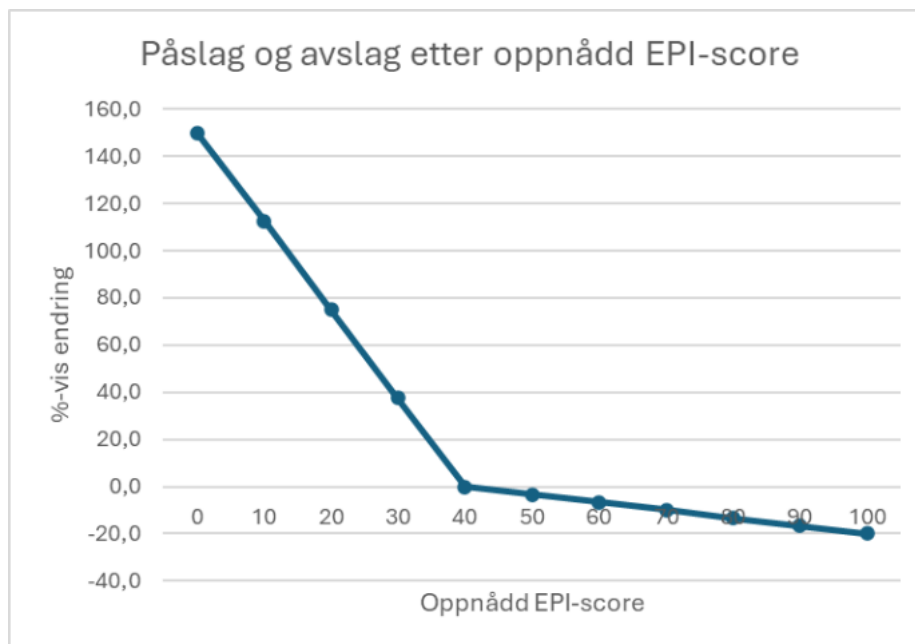

For the determination of fairway due and quay dues, the following calculation is used.

For EPI scores below 40:

$$\% \text{-wise change} = \% \left(\frac{1,5}{40} (40 - \text{EPI Score}) \right) 100$$

For EPI scores above 40:

$$\% \text{-wise change} = \% - \left(\frac{0,2}{60} (\text{EPI Score} - 40) \right) 100$$

EPI	Mark-up/deduction
0	150.0
10	112.5
20	75.0
30	37.5
40	0.0
50	-3.3
60	-6.7
70	-10.0
80	-13.3
90	-16.7
100	-20.0
